JAMES PURNELL

J.C. Purnell, President, Liberty Bank of Seattle was elected President of the National Bankers Association at the 49th Annual Convention held at Richmond, VA, September 29 through October 2.

The National Bankers Association, founded in 1926, is the trade association for the nation's 103 minority banks including Mexican-Americans, Chinese, Puerto Ricans, American Indians, Black, and multi-racially owned banks.

The NBA operates from a national headquarters in Washington, D.C., headed by Anthony L. Maxwell as Executive Director.

The National Bankers Association offers problem-solving guidance and support to member units, organizing groups, ideas and financial and technical resources to effect such results.

The bankers group has 85 institutional members, as well as associate memberships.

Other officers elected were: Robert James, President, Carver State Bank, Savannah, Georgia to President-Elect; Alden J. McDonald, Jr., President, Liberty Bank & Trust Company of New Orleans, LA; Region II, V.W. Henley, President, Consolidated Bank & Trust Co., Richmond, VA; Region III, George Brokemond, President, Highland Community Bank, Chicago; IL; Region IV, LaVannes C. Squires, President, Bank of Finance, Los Angeles, CA.

The theme of the convention was "Closing the Capital Gap for the Inner Cities."

Mr. Purnell stated that his administration would continue to place emphasis on "Closing the Capital Gap" - however, most importantly he would be focusing on improving the housing needs of the inner cities.

Encouraging minority owned banks to act as conduits to import funds into the inner cities will be another goal for his administration.

His prime goal, Mr. Purnell stated, would be to solicit the cooperation of all banks to invest in rebuilding the inner cities of this great country.

J. Bruce Burns Announces Campaign Platform

J. Bruce Burns has stated his platform for election to the office of attorney general. Burns said, "I want to restore professionalism and integrity to the office of Attorney General. The incumbent has made it a practice to hire lawyers outside his office resulting in unnecessary legal fees paid by the taxpayer. In one instance, the fee was over $170,000. With a staff of over 150 lawyers, the Attorney General should be able to handle any case that comes into his office.

Burns further stated, "As Attorney General, I will develop a new Consumer Protection Program to replace the Public Relations effort that has masked the incumbent's performance. I will press for an investigation and for legislation in regard to the shameful conditions of our nursing homes. I am concerned with the rip-off of the consumer by the private gas and electric utilities and intend to press for reformation in that area. I will give leadership and guidelines to law enforcement agencies so we can be safe in our homes and on the street. I intend to remove favoritism and partisanship from the office and represent all the people of the state fairly and equally."

Burns is an alumnus of the University of Puget Sound, Portland University and Willamette University. He is a disabled Veteran of WWII. Burns was elected Tacoma Freeholder and was also elected to three terms as state legislator.

Burns has been married for 28 years. He and his wife, Ann, have two children and a foster child.

Roots to be Prime Time 12-Part T.V. Series With Star-Studded Cast

ALEX HALEY

By Judith Williams

Black History comes to prime time T.V. when Alex Haley's highly accalimed historical saga Roots airs on the ABC Network, beginning in January. The cast will include Cicely Tyson, Edward Asner, Ralph Waite, Lorne Greene, Robert Reed, O.J. Simpson, Louis Gossett, Jr., LeVar Burton, Lynda Day George, Vic Morrow, Ben Vereen, John Amos, Georg Stanford Brown, Leslie Uggams, Sandy Duncan, Chuck Connors, Maya Angelou, George Hamilton, Richard Roundtree, Doug McClure, John Schuck, Gary Collins, Scatman Crothers, Madge Sinclair and Macdonald Carey.

The series is based on the best selling book Roots by Alex Haley, who traced the history of his own family back to Gambia in West Africa and then dramatically recreated the chronicle of their lives. The story begins with a masterful rendering of the day to day life in an African village where the original American founder, Kunta Kinte grows to manhood within the framework of the time-honored traditions of his tribe. Kinte is captured by slave raiders, undergoes the dread rites of passage on a slave ship and survives to father the American branch of the Kinte tree. The historical tale begins in 1750 and traces the family's destiny in America all the way to author Haley.

Haley spent 12 years researching the geneology of his family to write the book, which has had the largest first printing ever accorded a hardcover book. He had often heard his grandmother and old aunts talk of the family's American founder, whom they referred to as "the African." Through years of painstaking research in census records, maritime records, the National Archives and Africa, he was able to unravel the clues to the past and find his family sources in Gambia. There the griots, the old storytellers of the Mandinka tribe, identified the African, whose history had been preserved in the oral tradition of the tribe from which Kunta Kinte had been stolen.

The 12-hour television series will be an "ABC Novel for Television." Filming began on location in and around Savannah, Georgia and was completed in early October in California.

Emmy-winner David Greene ("Rich Man, Poor Man") has directed the opening script by story supervisor William Blinn (Peabody-winner for "Brian's Song") and Emmy-winner Ernest Kinoy. The entire project is being produced by Stan Margulies ("Collision Course," "I Will Fight No More Forever") with music by Quincy Jones.

Citizens for Spellman Group Formed

Leaders from the central community of Seattle and other ethnic communities announced their endorsement of John Spellman for Governor today.

Speaking at a press conference in Seattle, Dr. James E. Jackson, Ms. Jo Katherine Page and Reverend Cecil L. Murray, while announcing formation of Citizens for John Spellman, said, "It is vitally important that the central community and the larger ethnic communities of Seattle and King County support a candidate with a proven record of achievement, concern and dedication for the needs of our Senior Citizens, youth, students, the unemployed and the needy."

Dr. Jackson explained the other reasons the group has formed to support John Spellman:

"John Spellman has demonstrated a strong committment to the finest quality of life possible for all of the people. His support of joint Seattle-King County programs such as Head Start, health programs, drug abuse, manpower and employment are evidence of his support of service programs designed for the disadvantaged and needy."

"In addition, John Spellman has either appointed or supported minority representation in areas such as equal employment opportunity, transportation and personnel boards."

"We feel that John Spellman has a known performance record that has demonstrated his concern for all the people of the state. We cannot afford to elect a Governor with anything less."

INVESTMENT OR TAX DODGE?

Money Management Tip from the Washington Society of Certified Public Accountants: If you engage in a transaction because it promises a sizeable tax deduction, be sure it also has a significant prospect for making a profit. Without the money-making potential, IRS and the Tax Court could decide it's simply a tax-avoidance scheme and refuse the deduction.

Seahawks Return Home

KIRKLAND, WA -- The Seattle Seahawks, coming off the first regular season victory in the team's short history, host the Detroit Lions Sunday at 1 p.m. in the Kingdome.

Seattle, now 1-5 after a 13-10 win over Tampa Bay, will be making its first home appearance in three weeks after games with Green Bay in Milwaukee and at Tampa Bay.

Tickets are still available for the Seattle-Detroit game and may be purchased at the Seahawks Ticket office in Kirkland, the Kingdome or any Fiedlity Lane outlet in the Seattle area. For further ticket information call (206) 827-9766.

Detroit is coached by Tommy Hudspeth, who took over the team after the fourth regular season game from Rick Forzano. Under Hudspeth the Lions are 1-1 and 2-4 overall.

While the Seahawks are coming off a win, the Lions were upended by Washington, 20-7, last week.

"We borke the ice last week," says Seattle quarterback Jim Zorn, who threw a 15-yard touchdown to Sam McCullum and directed two second quarter drives that resulted in John Leypoldt field goals of 25 and 39 yards.

"As far as I'm concerned we're 1-0," says Zorn, who has completed 93 of 200 passes for 1,192 yards and thrown six touchdowns. His passing yardage ranks third in the National Football Conference as does his 93 completions, while his 200 attempts are the most in the NFC.

Zorn's favorite receiver, Steve Largent, holds a share of the NFC lead with Dallas' Billy Joe DuPree and Washington's Frank Grant. All three have caught 26 passes.

Sunday will also be Ballot Day at the Kingdome for the 1976 voting for the Dodge-NFL Man of the Year award, which honors the leading citizen-athletes of the National Football League.

Seattle's three nominees for the award are tackle Norm Evans, who will miss the game with a knee injury, linebacker Ken Geddes and center Fred Hoaglin.

Public Forum on Native American Women

"Native American Women in Action -- Many Fronts, One Struggle" is the theme of a public forum sponsored by the Freedom Socialist Party and Radical Women. The event will be held at the University of Washington Hub Auditorium on Friday, October 22 at 8:00 p.m.

Four of the Native American Movement's most dynamic women leaders, Yvonne Wanrow, Janet McCloud, Barbara Means, and Sally Fixico will speak on the mounting attack on Native Americans across the country. They will focus on the crucial role of Indian women in the struggle for justice and survival.

Yvonne Wanrow, convicted of second degree murder for defending her children from attack, is receiving national support for her courageous stand for the right of women to defend themselves and their children.

Janet McCloud, leader of the Indian fishing rights struggle and of the traditional Indian spiritual unity movement, is also nationally known for her support of Indian draft resisters and prisioners.

Barbara Means, writer and organizer from Pine Ridge, South Dakota, is a member of AIM and played a crucial role in focusing national attention on the 1973 Wounded Knee take over.

Sally Fixico, a student rights activist and chairperson for the Native American Student Association at Evergreen State College, helped found the Olympia Indian Center.

A discussion will follow the presentations. After the forum, the public is invited to attend a reception for the speakers at Freeway Hall, 3815 5th Ave. N.E.

Child care will be provided. For further information, call 632-1815 or 789-1220.

WHEN WE MAKE LOANS, WE CHECK OUT CREDIT.

NOT ADDRESSES.

Some people believe home rehabilitation loans and home loans are approved or not approved on the basis of where the house is located.

At First Bank, nothing could be further from the truth.

Because we're making a concerted effort to underwrite and support urban and suburban housing redevelopment in every way we can.

To us, it doesn't make any difference where you live. Or where you want to live.

What does make a difference is whether or not you have the ability to pay the loan back.

Period.

That's just good business. And it's the way we run ours.
